

THE CRAZIEST (AND SEXIEST) WOMAN ON TELEVISION

DETAILS

DETAILS.COM OCTOBER 2008 DETAILS

How the Art World Became the Last Party in Town

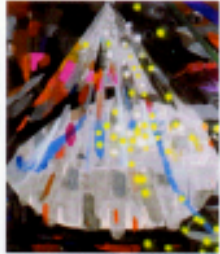

As billionaire buyers, hedge funds, and private collectors drive prices to new heights, contemporary art is now the only investment worth making.

ONES TO WATCH

If you're hesitant to sink your hard-earned cash into real estate or equities, these five emerging artists could be a good bet as long-term investments.

KELTIE FERRIS ▶

Basquiat meets Gerhard Richter. Upcoming solo show at Sunday L.E.S. Gallery in New York City [sundaynyc.com].

MATTHEW MCCUINNESS ▶

His Casper Disasters series uses found images of car bombings [greenecontemporary.com].

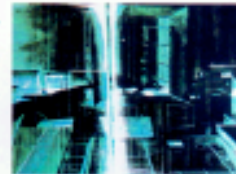

KAWS (A.K.A. BRIAN DONNELLY) ▶

Genius street artist, collected by Pharrell Williams. First New York solo show at Gering & López Gallery in November [geringlopez.com].

CHRIS DORLAND ▶

Gorgeous de-constructions of lost architecture. Upcoming New York solo show at Rental Rental Gallery [rental-gallery.com].

TIM BARBER ▶

Influential art curator with an upcoming Aperture Foundation book series. Limited editions of his own work at tbookshop.com/gallery.

